

Old School In The East

Binduga, Poland

©Celestyna Krol/Alicja T. Agency

Designed by the owner Wojciech Błaszczuk

Stylist Celestyna Król

The very old building in the middle of Binduga village in Podlasie region in Poland, used to serve the local kids as a school. Wojtek bought the un-used building a few years ago and moved there from Warsaw. He has set up his new home there as well as bed&breakfast. The architectural plan of the building has been sustained, so the classes are rooms for guests now. The hut is full of regional handcraft and old style objects. The nature around is a National Park and its absolutely stunning. Watch out for the lamas